PARAMENTS

Liturgical colors have an instructional purpose and point us to the life of Christ and the great acts of redemptive history.

These colored hangings, called paraments, adorn the pulpit, communion table, and baptismal font.

White is displayed during the Easter season. It represents the purity and glory of the risen Christ and the joy of His redeemed people.

† The Call to Worship

from Psalm 8

Leader: O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth! You have set your glory above the heavens. When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what is man that you are mindful of him, and the son of man that you care for him? Yet you have made him a little lower than the heavenly beings and crowned him with glory and honor. O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth!

The Call to Confession

John 5:24–29

Leader: “Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life. He does not come into judgment, but has passed from death to life. Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live. For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself. And he has given him authority to execute judgment, because he is the Son of Man. Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment.”

The Corporate Prayer of Confession

from Streams of Mercy

Unison: Loving Father, you know our inmost thoughts and the doubts that constantly shake us. With our lips we confess that we believe in the resurrection, but our persistent fears betray our unbelief. We know we will one day have new, glorious bodies, but we are quickly undone when our earthly bodies fail us. Father, forgive our unbelief.

Jesus, you are the resurrection and the life. You entered this world of suffering and death, and gave yourself over into the hands of those who hated you and were determined to kill you. Yet, in your darkest moments, you fixed your eyes on the joy that was set before you: that after the resurrection you would possess us as your people forever. Thank you for enduring through deep suffering in order that we may become like you and be with you forever.

Holy Spirit, you are the one who brings life to our dead souls, and will one day bring life back to these mortal bodies also. In all of our trials and difficulties, fix our eyes on our heavenly inheritance, which is stored up for us in Christ. Come quickly, LORD Jesus!

The Individual Prayers of Confession

The Assurance of Pardon

1 Corinthians 15:20–26

Leader: Christ has been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep. For as by a man came death, by a man has come also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, then at his coming those who belong to Christ. Then comes the end, when he delivers the kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power. For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death.

NOTES

DISCUSSION AND APPLICATION

- ❖ What motivates you to give to a particular person or cause? What is the motivation for Christians to contribute to the ongoing service of the church? Why do we often bristle at instructions to give?
- ❖ How do you understand the cooperative ministry of the church? Are you content with what the Lord has called you to do and what he has called others to do in the church?
- ❖ We don't move a tabernacle around with us or go to a temple in Jerusalem. What does the sanctuary of God look like under the new covenant in Christ?
